The Home Board at New York, has been informed of the work of the Committee here, appointed to raise funds to have a High School perpetuated. They answer very favorably and those who are on the inside say there is not a doubt but the school will be a go. It will be remembered that the Board proposes to give $500.00 annually and to make it perpetual.

They Are Very Pleasant.

Smokers attention. He has come at last. The Never Down, Log Run and Keystone cigar. Its made of cabbage leaves and rotten stock, bad flavor. If you don't believe it, try one and you will like it. Ask your merchant for it. Manufactured by S. L. Howich, Somerset, Ky.

Rev. James Prock, who was a student in Columbia some years ago, was married yesterday forenoon at 8 o'clock to Miss Lucretia Phelps, sister of Capt. John L. Phelps. The bride lives in Russell county. The groom has been living in Adair county several years, making his home at Mr. Peter Powell's. They left immediately for the South Cumberland River Association which is in session near Somerset.

ADAIR CIRCUIT COURT.

GREEN & SONS & Co., Pliffs vs. J. W. SANDERS & Co., Deft's

Notice.

I will on Wednesday, Sept. 12, 1900, at the law office of Garnett & Garnett, in Columbia, receive and hear proof of claims against the estate of J. W. Sanders, assigned.

L. B. HURT, Receiver.

There will be preaching at the following places next Sunday: E. W. Barnett, Zion; J. L. Kilgore, Mt. Carmel; W. S. Dudgeon, Mt. Roberts; Lawrence Williams, Campbellsville; T. L. Hulse, Gradyville; W. H. C. Sandidge, Morrowbone; T. F. Walton, this city; C. F. Breeding, Providence; W. L. Jesse, Big Creek; J. P. Roach, Harrods Fork; J. W. Dunford, Dunnville; Tobias Huffaker, Smith Chapel.

Mr. Forest E. Page, nephew of Dr. J. N. Page, this city, was married to Miss Ava Myrtle Head in Valley View, Texas, on Wednesday, the 29th ult. The groom is a fine business man, and is conducting a mercantile establishment in the city where he married. He is a young man of excellent character and is succeeding in his business affairs in Texas. If he lives he will be in easy circumstances some day, due to honesty, sobriety and energy.

Mr. John F. Neat, of Vester, left Monday for Louisville for the purpose of buying a large stock of goods. Mr. Neat has been in the mercantile business for two or three years at Vester and fully understands what is needed in that part of the country. He informed us that he would buy the largest and best assortment of goods that have ever been offered in his section. Mr. Neat has built up a nice trade and his business is steadily increasing.

Miss Corinne Jones, of Jamestown, who was a student in the M. & F. High School, this city, last year, was awarded a medal for being best in orthography at the Russell County Teachers' Institute. There were a number of contestants, and the bee was quite exciting. One person remained with Miss Corinne and for a time looked like a draw between the two. Finally the conductor selected twenty of the most difficult words to spell, and while they were being given out, Miss Corinne's opponent went down.

Mr. L. V. Hall, of this city, has bought a large stock of stoves and by consent of the various merchants he will be the only dealer in this line of business. Mr. Hall will soon be in a position to attend to the various needs of the people in this line and his honest methods guarantee that you can buy from him at the very lowest price. This is in keeping with his line of business and we trust that he will succeed. Mr. Hall is a young man full of energy and understands his business, besides he has the backing of his father, who has 50 years experience.

Now if any of your family are suffering with Chills and fever, aching of the bones, Jaundice, Biliousness, or any other symptoms of Malarial Poison, we earnestly solicit you to try a 50 cent bottle of Morley's Tasteless Chili Syrup, for if used according to directions we know it will cure. No cure, No pay. Sold by W. M. Bell, Joppa.

Sam Lewis, Master 3d. V.

J. W. Jackman, Sentinel.

Jo Stone Robbed.

About ten days ago Mr. Jo H. Stone, an attorney of Jamestown, and well-known in this place, passed through Columbia, en route for St. Louis. At Indianapolis he was robbed of one hundred and twenty-eight dollars and several other articles. We talked with Mr. Stone last Sunday morning, as he was leaving for Jamestown, and his story is substantially as the one follows, taken from the Indianapolis Press:

"Stone claims that he entered a saloon at 202 South Illinois Street, operated by B. F. Uhl. While there he met a strange young man, played pool with him, had several beers, left the saloon at ten o'clock and woke up at two o'clock at the intersection of the Capitol avenue and railroad tracks, minus $128, a ticket to St. Louis, valuable papers and a pair of gold spectacles.

"Stone claims he cannot remember leaving the saloon. The proprietor stated this morning that when Stone left his place he was, to all appearances, at least, sober and well. He went away in company of his newly-found friend, who volunteered to show him to the depot. The man was called 'Bill' but the rest of his name is unknown, although both Uhl and Stone declare that they could identify him again were he to be put in appearance.

"Officer Shafter was in the saloon at the time and found Stone the next morning, going to him in answer to his call for the police. Stone related his story and Shafter informed headquarters of the attorney's loss, but stated the victim was perfectly sober. Some think that he was drugged by his smooth companion while they were playing pool in the saloon and that, later, he was led to the dark retreats along the railroad track and relieved of his money. That he went to the depot, however, is shown by the fact that umbrella which he carried when he left the saloon had been checked at the parcel-stand and was found there this morning. Uhl says that the beer was called for while the men played pool, and that he served them, leaving the beer in the open window."

Liberty and Casey County.

Perhaps no inland town in Kentucky has had a more substantial growth in the last few years than Liberty, Casey county. Persons who have not visited the place in the past ten years would hardly know it at this time. The old buildings about the square have been removed and handsome business houses have been erected in their stead. The many new residences that have gone up are built upon modern plans, painted artistically and are beautiful to behold.

The merchants are first-class business men and are enjoying a fine run of trade.

A more hospitable people can not be found anywhere. A stranger within her gates is made to feel at home, and the first visit invariably calls for the second.

To-day the Fair opens and people will be there from all sections of the country. Much fine stock has already arrived, and everything points to a successful meeting of the Association. Adair and Russell counties have a sisterly feeling for their neighbor, and will send many representatives. Friends who have not been together for years, will "meet upon the level," shake each other's hand and talk over the incidents of long ago. What a pleasure these meetings bring about, and how sad the parting.

The bank at Liberty is having a fine run of business. There is a splendid demand for money, and the deposits are increasing as the days come. Mr. Geo. A. Pruett is the cashier, ably assisted by Mr. Pryor Young. No two gentlemen in Casey county stand higher, and the large amount of business transacted by this bank is due to their personal popularity.

Mr. J. D. Owens, at one time a successful school teacher in Adair county, is the efficient post-master at Liberty. He is very accommodating and liked by all political parties.

Just now the two hotels, one kept by Mr. J. W. Whipp, the other by Mr. W. D. Stagg are having a fine run of custom. Both of these houses of entertainment are well kept, everything for the comfortable accommodation of guests being furnished.

About one half of Casey county is in blue-grass and much of her lands are as valuable as can be found in any of the "prize" counties of the State. The farmers pride in keeping up their possessions, and on a large majority of the farms can be found handsome and convenient residences. The people of Casey county should be proud of their locations, and the News is glad that their lines have been run in healthy and pleasant places.

The county has good pikes, and the traveler can reach Stanford, Danville, Harrodsburg and Lebanon at the end of a 24 hours drive.

Here is hoping that the farmers, the merchants and all other business men will have a good week during the Fair, and that the beaux and the belles will enjoy themselves to their hearts content.

RUSSELL COUNTY INSTITUTE.

We, the committee on resolutions, beg leave to submit the following:

Resolved, That we extend our many thanks to the citizens of Jamestown for the hearty welcome they have given us.

2. That we extend our thanks and best wishes to the instructors, Messrs. Alexander and Brown, for the pleasant institute which they have given us.

We recognize in Prof. Alexander an honest, able, enthusiastic and practical instructor. We believe that Prof. Brown clearly demonstrated that he is master of his profession. We believe that we owe him much for his service.

3. That we endorse Supt. Jno. B. Wheat in the able, prudent manner in which he has conducted the affairs of the common schools in this county. We believe him to be a wise, prudent and discerning superintendent. We congratulate him on securing such able instructors as Messrs. Alexander and Brown. In recognition of these things, we shall put forth every effort as citizens and teachers to make the work of education successful and harmonious.

4. That we extend our thanks to Miss Magie Jones and others for the many excellent music rendered.

5. That we feel grateful to the many visitors for their presence and interest manifested in our work.

OLLIE TAYLOR, H. M. BERNARD, W. L. HART.

It is said cards are out announcing the marriage of Mr. T. S. Scott, editing the Burksville Herald, and Mrs. Una White, who lives near Camp Knox, Green county. This marriage will be the culmination of a long and devoted courtship, and the many friends of the contracting parties are rejoicing that they have wisely concluded to walk hand in hand, their hearts beating in union, down the stream of Time. Four years ago the groom was favorably mentioned by the Republicans as a suitable candidate for Lieutenant Governor. The intended bride is a handsome and popular young widow. The ceremony will take place about the middle of this month, and after a two weeks bridal tour, the couple will be at their home in Burksville.

Paid list since our last issue: E. B. Leachman, E. Warren, J. J. Holland, R. L. Morris, Geo. Al Edwards, W. A. Buckner, M. Blakeman, E. N. Wilson, W. W. Vaughan, J. J. Lee, Ed Lodge, E. C. Page, W. H. Jones, J. M. Mitchell, Lewis Howell, A. J. Marr, D. S. Towles, E. B. Cantrill, E. Graham, W. D. Rucker, T. J. Clark, W. Hogan, M. A. McClister, A. I. Hurt, S. W. Bally, James Cloyd, Mrs. Nannie Bliss, T. B. Hazard, Mrs. J. R. Smith, Mutual Mercantile Agency, W. D. Brown, R. T. Jones, David Bryant, John F. Neat, Thomas P. Moran, Wesley Hatcher.

GREENSBURG.

The News man was in town last week taking subscriptions.

N. M. Tutt, of Columbia, took in the show at this place last Wednesday.

D. M. Towles and family have moved from their farm to town and are occupying a part of the dwelling owned by his sister, Mrs. Lena Foster.

Prof. G. N. Peck opened school at this place last week with good attendance.

Messrs John Barnett and W. E. Ward have returned from the Russell Springs, where they have been for several days.

Gen. E. H. Hobson and his son, John A. Hobson are in Chicago attending the G. A. R.

Don D. H. Smith, democratic nominee for re-election to Congress in this district, was in town Wednesday night of last week, and left for Washington county Thursday evening. Mr. Smith is in good spirits and claims that his election will be from 2,500 to 4,000 majority.

He has been about over the district and says the Fourth is in good shape.

A. K. Workman is not in good health being confined to his room part of the time.
